

What is Pleo?

Pleo is a whole new way to manage business spending.

Imagine: no more expense reports, no more piles of receipts, no more out-of-pocket purchases.

How Pleo works

We offer virtual and plastic cards to help people buy what they need for work with no fuss.

Managers can set spending limits for each card and get notified of purchases in real time.

Our system automatically categorises each purchase, allowing for real oversight into where company money is going.

At the end of the month, accounts teams export everything with just one click.

Pleo has seamless integrations with the top accounting systems, including Xero, Quickbooks, Sage and e-conomic.

Who are Pleo's ideal customers?

We believe that Pleo is for everyone.

- Leaders free their teams from wasting time on expenses and create a company culture of trust and transparency
- Employees are empowered to buy what they need for work, with no fuss
- Accountants can focus on things that really matter, not chasing receipts

Pleo

How does Pleo pricing work?

Essential - £5 per user per month

Everything you need to kickstart the future of work and business spending for your team.

Pro - £10 per user per month

As your team grows, Pleo scales with you. Go for Pro for enhanced product flexibility, customisation and insights.

Premium

For enterprises and larger teams, we offer a Premium service uniquely tailored to your needs.

Anything else I need to know?

- 2015: Pleo founded by Jeppe Rindom and Niccolo Perra
- $56m: Pleo raised the largest Series B round in Denmark to date, led by Stripes
- Now operating in Denmark, the UK, Germany, Sweden, Spain and Ireland
- Headquarters in Copenhagen, with new offices in London, Berlin and Stockholm and remote workers across the world